

THE GREATEST MYSTERY EVER KNOWN

You definitely have come across many puzzles in your life that intrigued your mind for real solution. And in all you never felt contented until you had found appropriate answers.

Life is full of puzzles that challenge us at every turn. We spend our lives striving to unravel different puzzles so that we can realize increased contentment. Likewise when we solve a mystery we feel more secured and assured. In fact the whole of science is basically the quest of man to unravel the mysteries of nature and gain total mastery over it. We rejoice at every new discovery, however insignificant, because it adds to our sense of security and contentment. But unfortunately, this contentment is ever short lived and very quickly life presents us with even more challenging puzzles. One solution leads to another riddle. Somehow we never get to answer our greatest question.

In fact our quest can only be satisfied by solving the greatest riddle of all of them. We need to go to the source of all mysteries. And this is obviously LIFE itself.

LIFE is the biggest thing that it is possible to think of. Through LIFE we are born into the world and we are able to perceive everything. It is LIFE which animates our minds, gives us emotions, moves our bodies and yet it remains ever obscure. LIFE is our most intimate thing but yet the least understood of all. We can speak with much authority on the appearances of LIFE but we are never able to place a finger on what we really mean by LIFE. Nothing is more valuable than LIFE and we work incessantly to keep it but we are never able to sustain it forever.

PATH

Discover Love is the Cause of your Existence

At the end of it all everything that we ever knew or possessed dissolves back into the mystery that was before birth. It is because life remains mysterious that we always fall short of absolute contentment and security.

Nothing short of true knowledge about LIFE can give us the mystery over everything. LIFE is the one common thing in nature and knowledge of it is an ultimate solution to any riddle you can think of. And because LIFE is neither a concept nor an idea, the answer to the riddle of LIFE must also surpass words, and yet be as beautiful, simple and natural as LIFE itself. One must over-reach the appearances and discover that energy which gives LIFE to everything.

The way to this startling discovery is called THE PATH. Through THE PATH anyone can learn to contact this energy, to identify with it and ascertain his position relative to the whole of nature. THE PATH gives answers to all questions that it is possible to ask and through a very simple and practical way. There are absolutely no special abilities required to practice THE PATH. Just as simple as LIFE.

If you desire to unravel the mystery of all mysteries, to go to the source of all knowledge, the chance is here now.
